Teaching Innovations Event, Leeds, 19th October 2016

Welcome to the joint Leeds University Business School (LUBS) and Faculty of Environment 'Innovations in Teaching' event. This event showcases some of the interesting and innovative activities in teaching/learning in and around the university. The afternoon will consist of short presentations with plenty of opportunities for conversation and networking.

How the stack was used

This stack was created by the organisers of the Teaching Innovations Event (after they had seen LTB used at the Informal Learning @ Work Knowledge Exchange). They used it to support their event in a similar way - providing access to background material for participants, a space to share & discuss and for gathering event feedback.
